

Reflections on a Transfusion Service Career

Worst explanations on an Exception Log

5. SOP
4. Jane approved
3. Because
2. Whatever
1. DUH

Did I sign on for this?

- Using Immuguard Filter during trauma
- Blood Banking in the morgue.
- Blood Banking by candlelight.
- The Great Laboratory Flood.
- Blood Banking in a termite swarm.
- Walking the plank.

Advice for working Night Shift

5. Testing the safety shower in the new lab.

Instructions: Stand under the showerhead, pull the bar.

Advice: Remember to bring a towel.

4. Get fresh air at 1am by sitting in the ER driveway by the street.

Advice: Remember to duck when the shooting starts.

Advice For Night Shift

3. Go on break at 2am when the bars down the street close so you can 'watch the show'.

Advice: Prepare to call 911 to report the next trauma. Return to the lab to work the trauma.

2. Going for a joy ride on the trauma helicopter during lunch.

Advice: Have a stand by to work for you when the helicopter gets a trauma call mid-flight.

1. Using ice from the freezer to pack blood.

Advice: Prepare to explain the bloodscicles.

GO NAVY!

BEAT ARMY!

THANK YOU

SEABB